LATEST NEWS

Jaylen Brown Leads All Scorers With 39 Points

Boston Celtics forward Jaylen Brown one-upped his co-star with one more point as the team coasted by the Houston Rockets. The Cal product posted 39 points, one rebound, two assists, and three steals while shooting 53.8% on 26 attempts and 40% from deep on 15 attempts. This wasn't the normal all-around stat line that Brown is accustomed to putting up, but if any fantasy managers needed scoring with some steals, then it's hard to be mad at this performance.

Jayson Tatum Scores 38 Points Against Rockets

Boston Celtics forward Jayson Tatum had a field day against the Houston Rockets in a 126-102 win on Tuesday night. The 24-year-old registered 38 points on 12-for-25 shooting and 6-for-16 from deep. He also added eight rebounds, four assists, one steal, and one block across 34 minutes of playing time. Tatum is still a top candidate for MVP this season and he remains in the top 10 rankings for category fantasy formats. The return and increasing minutes of Robert Williams III is only going to help Tatum in the long run as well.

Robert Williams III Gets Another Questionable Tag On Tuesday

Boston Celtics center Robert Williams III (illness) received the questionable tag again on Tuesday due to a non-COVID illness. He's still on a minute restriction, so the team could opt to play it safe. Williams hasn't played more than 22 minutes and has generally hovered between 13 and 17 while coming off of the bench. If they keep him out of this one, look for Al Horford to get some big minutes with Luke Kornet picking up most of the backup opportunities.

Marcus Smart Probable To Suit Up On Christmas

Boston Celtics guard Marcus Smart (hip) is listed as probable for Sunday's Christmas clash with Milwaukee. He's been having trouble with left hip Inflammation, but it's not a serious issue and Smart should be good to go. The 28-year-old has struggled with his shot this month, but Smart always finds ways to make himself useful on the court and plays big minutes on a nightly basis, which helps him to fill the box score. He had a great time against the Bucks last season, averaging 17.3 points per game across four outings with 3.5 rebounds, 7.8 assists and 1.5 steals.

Grant Williams Probable Against Indiana

Boston Celtics forward Grant Williams (illness) is probable for Wednesday's meeting against Indiana. The 24-year-old got the start for Jayson Tatum (personal) on Sunday versus Orlando, logging 14 points, six rebounds, and three assists in 31 minutes. However, with Tatum expected back, Williams would return to his usual role from the bench, so his fantasy upside will be limited.
